The battle grew out of a long-standing feud between the companies.

KENTUCKY TROOPS ARE ORDERED OUT AS STRIKE SPREADS

(International News Service.)
LOUISVILLE, July 27.—Kentucky troops were rushed today to the West Virginia state line to co-operate with West Virginia troops in maintaining a neutral zone between the warring coal mining factions. Adjutant General Dewees has taken command of the troops.

WASHINGTON, July 27. — The government's next step in the coal crisis hinges upon the outcome of the conference held in New York today between Attorney General Palmer and coal operators and business men. The attorney general is expected to make a report on the situation and the result of today's conference before the President takes further action.

An optimistic report was issued from headquarters of the National Coal association today declaring that "no alarm need be felt by the public as to a coal famine."

THE STRIKE SPREADS
(International News Service.)
INDIANAPOLIS, July 27.—With virtually one-half the mines in Indiana shut down by walk-outs and with shut-downs facing the others before night, practically a complete tie-up of the coal industry in Indiana is in prospect. Union leaders are planning sympathetic strikes in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

MAY CLOSE MILLS
CHICAGO, July 7.—As the strike of day mine workers which began in Illinois continued its spread to coal fields of Indiana, Kansas, Michigan and Ohio, threatening the country's winter supply of fuel, the great steel industries in the Calumet district were faced with the prospect of shutting down their plants and throwing 60,000 men out of employment. It is believed by some that the present plan to give priority of car supply to mines will partially relieve the crisis.

RETAIL MERCHANTS TO MEET TONIGHT; ALL ARE INVITED

Retail merchants of Albany will meet at the chamber of comemrce at 7:30 o'clock tonight when the new association will be formally organized. The meeting tonight follows one held several days ago when a temporary organization was affected.

W. W. Rahm, Albany chairman, today urged a full attendance of the local membership and extended a cordial invitation to merchants of neighboring cities to attend. Reports will be made by the several committees appointed at the initial meeting.

DETAILS OF PARLEY ARE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE BEING HELD AT BOULOGNE

FRANCE BALKS AT RECOGNITION OF REDS

Insists That Debts of Old Government Must be Assured by Soviet Regime.

(International News Service)
BERLIN, July 27.—A news agency dispatch from Frankfort today said that French troops were passing Germany to Poland on the pretext of relieving French forces in upper Silesia.

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 27. — Reports of military activity on the Russo-Polish battlefront were received today, despite the soviet government's consent to armistice negotiations with the Poles.

(International News Service)
BOULOGNE, July 27.—An Anglo-French conference to discuss details of the proposed peace parley in London between Russia and the Russian border states opened here this afternoon.

Premier Millerland, who arrived at noon, was accompanied by Marshal Foch and the French minister of Finanec. Premier Lloyd George arrived from London about the same time.

The refusal of the Bolshevist government at Moscow to recognize the debt contracted by the old imperial government of Russia has been the chief stumbling block in the way of the recognition of the soviet by France. Mr. Lloyd George was somewhat set back when he learned of dispatches from Paris quoting French government officials as saying that France would not participate in a general parley in London unless the United States was an active participant.

UNCLE SAM UNURGED
(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The United States has not received an invitation to join in the proposed general peace conference between the entente and soviet Russia, it was announced at the state department today. Acting Secretary Davis would not discuss the likelihood of such an invitation being received.

LEROY, MAN BADLY WANTED IN TRUNK MURDER MYSTERY ELUDES THE POLICE

Alleged Slayer of Wife Has so Far Escaped From the Law.

PULLMAN PORTER SAYS FUGITIVE ON TRAIN

Believes That Fleeing Husband of Dead Woman Came to Chicago Monday.

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 27.—Photographs of Kate Jackson, received by police here today from Birmingham, Ala., were positively identified as those of Mrs. Leroy, the woman in the trunk murder mystery.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 7.—A new search for Eugene Leroy, suspect in the trunk murder mystery, was under way by local detectives today, following the story told by a Pullman porter on the Michigan Central that the description of one of the passengers who arrived on his car Monday morning tallied in detail with published descriptions of Leroy. The porter said the man appeared to be very nervous and did not sleep all night.

HISTORY OF VICTIM
(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM July 27.—Additional facts concerning Katherine Jackson now practically admitted to have been the woman found in the trunk in New York came to light today.

The woman's real name was Mrs. Katherine Jackson ,19 years old. Her home is at Sturgis, Miss., ten miles south of Starkville. McCoy Jackson, a young farmer, who has never left his county, is her husband and so far as he knows is the only legal husband she has. Mrs. Jackson's maiden name was Miss Katie Lou Fondren and she is a step-daughter of Alfred Vaughn, farmer of Sturgis. Her father was Hampton Fondren and he died when she was 7 years old. Her mother married Vaughn and in 1919 she died. Katie, meanwhile, was married but upon the death of her mother, small town life palled upon her and she left, saw some of the world and came back. Then she left again and after an eventful life wound up in a New York baggage room a corpse and a subject for the morgue. The husband is heartbroken and declares he always believed his wife would come back.

POLICE BAFFLED
(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 27. — Tangled threads of circumstances gathered from al over the United States in the Detroit-New York trunk murder mystery have only served to add tangles to the most baffling case ever faced by the Detroit police department, Police Commissioner Inches admitted today. Reports from different sources have identified the murdered woman as Mrs. Katherine Jackson Leroy, and the murderer as Eugene Leroy, her husband. The motive for the murder, where, when and how, is still a mystery. Some men who worked with Leroy have offered to help identify him.

PEACE IN EIGHT MONTHS IS THE GERMAN VIEW

(International News Service.)
BERLIN, July 27.—Germany expects that at least eight more months will elapse before the state of war between the United States and this country is formally and officially terminated.

Dr. Von Simons, foreign secretary, revealed this in a speech at the opening of the national assembly. He declared that Great Britian was not neutral but had intervened in the Polish-Russian war to save Poland and that the entente was pressing for the passage of troops through Germany, thus threatening Germany.

GRAND JURY PROBES OFFICIAL ACCOUNTS

Judge Kyle Gives Jurors Examiner's Reports but Declined to Discuss the Contents

JUDGE O. KYLE

A sensation was created in the Circuit court this morning when Judge Kyle recalled the grand jury, organized yesterday, and gave to the jurors a number of reports from state examiners, said to affect the accounts of present or former Morgan County officials.

It was reported about the courthouse that there are discrepancies in the accounts totalling a large sum. Judge Kyle, however, declined to discuss the contents of the reports as the deliberations of the grand jury are secret. It is not known whether the reports will be made public following the conclusion of the jury's deliberations, but it is considered very probable that the jury's report will take cognizance of the supplemental charge given by Judge Kyle.

The jury began its first day's work this morning with many witnesses summoned. Judge Kyle, in his charge to the grand jury on its organization Monday, said a large number of cases are to be investigated and told the inquisitorial body it may take two weeks for its work. County Solicitor T. C. Almon is appearing for the state.

Experts were surprised at the burst of speed shown by Shamrock. At 1:15 Shamrock was half a mile ahead of Resolute.

He has a wide acquaintance and many staunch friends who say that if he should not be favored by selection that he will poll a vote most creditable and everything now looks favorable for his candidacy.

GREEN LEADS FIGHT AGAINST CLEARANCE OF CHECKS AT PAR; GIVEN HIGH OFFICE

HEADS COMMITTEE TO GO BEFORE CONGRESS

D. F. Green, former Morgan County attorney, later vice president of the Tennessee Valley bank, now superintendent of banks for Alabama, has returned from Seattle, where he led a successful fight before the National Association of Supervisors of State banks to obtain the passage of a resolution protesting agninst the clearance of checks at par.

Mr. Green was named chairman of a committee to memorialize Congress on the position taken by the supervisors. The former local man was highly honored by the association by his election as second vice president of the national organization. In addition to Mr. Green, other members of the committee named to present the resolution on par clearance to Congress, are: Ira R. Pentiua, of Ohio; Marshall Cousins of Wisconsin; Charles F. Stern, of California.

The resolutions passed by the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks with reference to par clearance are as follows:

"Resolved, the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, in Convention Assembled:

First—That we do hereby pledge our hearty support of the movement to have Congress so amend the Federal Reserve Act as to permit banks in proper cases to charge and collect reasonable exchange on items.

Second—That we commend the Federal Reserve Board for taking a neutral position on this important question. The Board and the Federal Reserve Banks should guard against criticisms of every kind, and request Congress to make clear their duties.

Third—That this Association does hereby request the American Bankers' Association as a whole, and each Section thereof, as well as all state bankers associations, to asist in having the Federal Reserve Act amended so as to permit banks in proper cases to charge a reasonable sum for their services in remitting for items.

Fourth—That the president of this association appoint a committee of Five (5) state bank supervisors, which Committee shall bring before congress the position taken by this association on this question. and otherwise assist in the efforts to amend the Federal Reserve Act so as to make plain the right of banks to make such charges."

KIWANIS TRY ONCE MORE BEAT LEGION

FOURTH CONTEST BETWEEN THE TWO CLUBS BE PLAYED THIS AFTERNOON

The tenacity of this Morgan Kiwanis club puts the bulldog to shame. Unable to win a single contest in the first three played with the American Legion's baseball team, the Indians are going to try again this afternoon.

The local Kiwanians thought they had two games scheduled with the Columbia Kiwanis club, but the Tennessee team proved to be semi-professionals and the games are temporarily called off. The game this afternoon will be called at 5 o'clock

INFANT "ALBANY" IS ADOPTED BY J. T. COOPER OF HARTSELLE; MANY WANTED THE CHILD

Future of Local Moses, Found in the Bulrushes, Officially Settled by Special Committee on Award.

The infant "Albany" who created a local furore following his discovery in the bushes on the Somerville pike near the ferry landing, late yesterday was adopted by John T. Cooper, of Hartselle, following the award of the special board appointed by the Albany city council to handle the child's future. Immediately after the award was made Mr. Cooper went to the office of Probate Judge Troup and the adoption was formally ratified by the court. Mr. Cooper left on the afternoon train for Hartselle with the infant.

The baby boy was found by Ben Grosenendyke last Tuesday shortly before noon, when he heard the baby's cries, coming from a path of bushes on the Somerville road. The baby was wrapped in a sack. Officers who investigated the case immediately affectionately called the child "Albany" after the municipality—his foster parent. The infant was taken to the Benevolent hospital where it was given every attention. Chief of Police Hendrix went on a shopping expedition and carried a large quantity of clothing to the hospital, the gift of the municipality.

At the regular meeting of the city council last week, a special committee was named to look after the child's future and to hear requests for adoption. The committee was composed of Mayor A. C. Dillehay and Alderman Brock. On account of the absence from the city of Mayor Dillehay, his duties on the committee revolved upon C. E. Malone, president of the council.

A number of requests for adoption were listed with the city officials. The baby had won the hearts of all with whom it came in contact.

It became known today that Judge L. P. Troup received a letter from Mrs. L. B. Bush, state director of the Alabama Children's Aid Society, suggesting that the infant be turned over to that organization. The letter was handed to city officials.

WILL MONTGOMERY IS BEING TRIED FOR THE SECOND TIME

Is Charged With Implication in Death of "Red" Nelson.

The Circuit court today began the second trial of Will Montgomery, charged with second degree murder in connection with the death of "Red" Nelson, whose partially decomposed body was found at the base of a bluff a short distance from Hartselle.

Montgomery was tried once before in the Circuit court and given a penitentiary sentence, but after the sentence had been started, the case was reversed by the supreme court and another trial ordered.

The defendant today is being represented by John R. Sample, of Hartselle. Porter M. Brindley, deceased, was the attorney for the defense in the initial trial. The posecution is being conducted by Solicitor D. C. Almon.

Testimony for the defense today included that of Lum Ward, eye witness, who said Montgomery shot Nelson after the latter had trained a gun on the defendant. He said he left the scene of the killing shortly afterward and knew nothing of the discusion of any plans for disposition of the body.

A GOOD REMEDY FOR THE DIVORCE EVIL

Grand jury charges delivered here and at Huntsville by Judge Kyle and at Birmingham by Judge Tate stress the lax methods now being used in obtaining divorces in Alabama. Judge Kyle, in illustrating the point, cited a case where a legal separation had been granted without the knowledge of the wife, whose signature had been forged to papers supposed to have been served upon her. The court instructed the inquisitors to probe corrupt methods used in dissolving the marriage tie, which include perjury and no doubt connivance in some instances.

It is only too evident from the strictures of the bench that the divorce laws of Alabama are in some degree to blame for existing conditions. It is an undisputable fact that the white light of "pitiless publicity" is rarely if ever turned upon those proceedings whereby matrimonial discords are terminated by court orders. So much secrecy is observed, in fact, that even newspapers find it difficult to ascertain if divorces have been granted. All of this is due, no doubt to a certain tender regard for the feelings of the litigants, a kind of soft-hearted chivalry that does not hedge in or protect those who are charged with violation of criminal statutes.

If the law required the publication of a legal notice of an application for divorce and the publication of the granting of a divorce, society would be largely protected from any unworthy efforts to obtain decrees of separation. And if the evidence was taken in public, there would be fewer persons who would care to bare their matrimonial records.

Publicity would be a drastic remedy for this evil, but it would also be an effective one.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE PREMIER CITY BUILDERS

(Anniston Star)

In Gadsden a movement is under way to finance the Gadsden Chamber of Commerce for another year. It is planned to add to the activities of the Gadsden Chamber of Commerce an advertising campaign which will make Gadsden known to the world-at-large. In speaking of the movement the Gadsden Journal says: "A chamber of Commerce, properly financed and administered, is a benefit and a blessing to a community." The Journal could not have given expression to a greater truth in a happier way.

The Gadsden movement is a commendable one and, if carried out as planned, will result in great good for the Etowah city. Anniston knows what it is to have a Chamber of Commerce properly administered. The wonderful work of the Anniston commercial body is well realized by the business men and manufacturers of this city, and the time now is at hand when the Chamber of Commerce can do even a greater work for Anniston than it has been able to accomplish in the past, for Anniston is entering upon a new era of industrial and commercial growth that will call for the full encouragement and co-operation of the business interests of the city.

A Chamber of Commerce can do good only to the extent that it is supported by the business interests of a city. Give such a body enthusiastic and whole support and it will bring returns a thousand fold upon the investment. Give it but lukewarm support, look upon it as a perhaps necessary, but burdensome affair, and such a body is so badly handicapped that it can do no good. Anniston is fortunate in having a live Chamber of Commerce, capably officered and which is a power for good in every line of endeavor affecting the city's growth possible. Boost it, and it will boost the city. Support it, and it will add to the city's industrial commercial The thing to do is to keep it such a factor by giving it the best support greatness.

Senator Harding is the champion "opinionless man". He wouldn't even say whether he thought Eugene V. Debs should be paroled.

Politicians who contend that President Wilson is a liability to the democratic party are simply out of touch with the better element of American citizenship.

The railroads are very promptly reporting deficits equal to the government's guarantee of $75,000,000 a month. Some bets are too good to overlook.

The city of Decatur is to be commended for patching the holes in the paving on Bank Street. "A stitch in time" is a worthy motto that is too often overlooked by those having charge of the up-keep of the public highways.

Why cut the weeds? No live municipality would consider such a destructive thing.

Jack Johnson, also, will conduct an inside campaign.

Something else to boast about: The people of the United States paid more tax last year than during any year of the nation's history.

JUST IN PASSING

"The report of the state authorities on the local water supply is quite a compliment to our water supply," declared Dr. Burton F. Austin, Morgan County health officer. "The results established by the tests showed our water supply is far above the average. The water company should be proud of the tests."

PRAISE FOR DALY

It is not entirely unusual for a friend to compliment a newspaper, but W. R. Shelton, manager of the Daily, had a very unusual experience Saturday afternoon when aboard a Louisville and Nashville train. A copy of The Daily had been brought aboard the train and was being passed around in the smoking room. L. J. Jones, of New York, was a member of the party in the compartment. He read The Daily with apparent interest and began praising it highly. "It is the best little newspaper I ever saw," he declared after glimpsing a late story that Babe Ruth had hit his 34th homer in the game Saturday afternoon. "I have gotten here anything I would spend an hour getting from a New York paper." Later he was introduced to Mr. Shelton and again expressed his appreciation of The Daily.

WITHOUT MUSIC

"The other day I saw a copy of the London Times and was very much interested in a story to the effect that Paris is dining without music now," said a local resident. "We do not have 'music with our meals' here, but those of us who have occasion to visit New York once in a while can hardly get a mental picture of Gotham hotel and cafe dinners without music. The Times story says:

"There was no music in Montmartre last night, none in the Boulevards and none in the great restaurants. Those who had gone in search of the colour and liveliness of post-war Paris had to dine in silence and forego the pleasures of the dance. The only person who might have rejoiced was the legendary German, who, when musical meals were introduced, bitterly complained:—"I can't hear meinself eat."

"The reason of the sudden silence is to be found in the new taxes. The proprietors declare that they cannot expect the public to pay more for its aperitifs, and so perforce they have to make economy where they can by discharging their musicians and so escaping the extra tax. Thus there are now some two to three thousand musicians out of work. There has not been time yet to discover whether the contention of the cafe keepers is justified, put it will be interesting to see whether, now that they have no musical expenses, they reduce the price of book or vermouth."

City Could Use More Cats.

It is estimated that there are in Paris 240,000 cats. The "official cats," which keep the museums and offices free of rats and mice, cost the state $3 a head a year for upkeep, so that if the private cats cost an equal amount the total would be about $750,000 a year, says the London Mail. But, judging by the number of rats one sees in the streets of Paris before dawn, feeding from the refuse boxes, several thousand more cats would be a good investment, for the amount of damage done by rats must be enormous.

COUNCIL MEATS

Better Meats That Cost Less
No Waste · No Ice Needed
Always Tender
Ready-Cooked To Perfection

15% to 25% More Actual Meat to the Pound

YOU buy uncooked meat and you pay for trimmings and for bones. You can't eat them—they're not meat. But you pay for them—at meat prices.

In ready-cooked Council Meats there are no bones, no waste, just meat—fine, tender cuts, cooked as you like them, seasoned as you season them. Ready to eat except for a few minutes' warming.

And they can be had in almost endless variety; roast beef, roast mutton, hamburger steak and onions, corned beef hash, etc., etc.—each as good as it can be and at prices that give you 15 to 25% more actual meat to the pound (counting the shrinkage in cooking) at the same price per pound you're now paying.

Therefore, to use Council Meats is to actually save from 15 to 25c out of each dollar you now spend for meat. You can't afford to overlook such opportunity for economy.

FEW ENTER "DISMAL SWAMP"

Forbidding Region in Virginia and North Carolina Extends No Hospitable Hand to Visitors.

The name "Dismal Swamp" is a by-word everywhere, and a legend has grown up around it of a dreary, boggy, unknown region of snakes and dark, damp thickets, where runaway slaves fled for refuge. This region is but little better known today than it was when George Washington himself laid out a route through it.

The swamp is old historically. The first settlers at Norfolk and the region round about knew of it as a wild, impassable bit of country full of game and of valuable timber—cypress, so good for making shingles; juniper, black gum and beech. In 1728 Col. Byrd, while trying to establish the boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina, ran a survey across it, working with the greatest difficulty and making only a mile a day through the thick growth. He it was who named it the Dismal swamp.

Later surveys and government maps show that the wilderness contains about 800 square miles of wood and water lying in a tract twenty miles wide and forty-five long, and extending twenty miles into Virginia and twenty-five into North Carolina. The soil is a sort of rich black vegetable mould, dry and caky at some seasons, and saturated with water at others.

The whole region is like a huge sponge, alternately dry and wet, and as the swamp level, curiously enough, is twenty feet above tidewater, it is the source of many rivers and streams.

There are deer in the woods, but it is the wild cattle that give the best sport. The ancestors of these "reed-fed" cattle, as they are called, strayed in from the fields and took up their abode in the swamp. The result is a race of small, active, wild cattle, the flesh of which is a delicious combination of the qualities of wild game and tame animals.

There is a chance that before many years the greater part of the swamp will be redeemed from its present wildness into civilized farm land, but it will be many years before the bear and wild cattle and moccasin snakes disappear from their refuges, and before the rare plants and birds that still draw botanists and ornithologists from all parts of the country will be found only in museum show cases.

Going Into Debt to Save.

One of our advertisers frequently uses this slogan in his appeals for business: Go into debt to save. It is excellent advice. Many people have such a horror of debt that they do not differentiate between kinds of debt, but try to avoid them all. Debts incurring for running expenses mean living beyond one's income and, while sometimes necessary in emergencies, are deplorable and not to be contracted except in cases of dire necessity. But going into debt for the purpose of making conservative investments is a wise policy, is the belief of the Ohio State Journal.

Such debts get a man started right and provide him with that very important aid in saving, a positive and definite incentive. If he buys a bond, paying part down and binding himself to pay the balance in specified installments at regular intervals, he is not likely to go back on his agreement. Under such an arrangement he is more likely to save a certain sum each month than if he were merely trying to save it under no obligation to anyone but himself. It helps him stick to a good habit. Going into debt to save is a step toward independence.

Pharaoh's Throne in Philadelphia.

Part of the palace to which the Pharoh Merneptah summoned Moses and Aaron to order the Israelites out of Egypt more than 3,000 years ago is to become a permanent exhibit of the University of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia.

The palace was discovered under the sands of centuries by Dr. Clarence S. Fisher, world famous archeologist, who has just returned after six years in the field for the University museum. It was located at the site of ancient Memphis, not far from the mouth of the Nile.

The sections of the palace obtained include the raised dais on which stood Merneptah's throne, with the steps at the sides and a ramp in front, on which, in all probability, the two patriarchs of the Old Testament stood after the plagues and heard the order to lead their people from bondage.

Wireless for Shipwrecked.

However well equipped with wireless a ship may be, an accident that results in its sinking puts an end to its distress signals, and may not even allow time to begin them, leaving its hurriedly manned lifeboats without any means of communication with each other or with a rescue ship. An eastern inventor has designed a simple and compact radio system intended as permanent equipment for one or more lifeboats on each vessel, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The wireless apparatus, used for both telegraphing and telephoning, is inclosed in a water-tight box at the stern, and grounded through a metal plate on the bottom of the boat. To shut out extraneous sounds and add to the sensitiveness of the set, the operator is equipped with a helmet containing the telephone receivers.

Costly Bridal Veils.

Two bridal veils were recently sold in San Francisco at $700 each. They were procured from Limerick, Ireland, and are three yards long and three yards wide, of Limerick Irish lace.

Not Nowadays.

Ladies of quality originally wore masks either to protect their complexions or out of modesty to prevent them from being recognized while out of doors.

Returns After Years of Absence

Chas. Carter and children, Robert and Owene, of Altus, Okla., are here today visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Carter was born at Oakville, Lawrence county, and left here twenty-six years ago to make his home in the west. He has been engaged in merchantile lines and has prospered, making this trip to his old home for the sole purpose of viewing childhood scenes and seeing the comparatively few old friends who are still here.

SHE NOW WALKS AFTER 8 MONTHS SPENT IN BED

Astonishing case of Anniston lady just reported. Got up during the night, had a fall, and been confined ever since

Declares her mother took everything recommended, treated by Doctor without results and that three bottles of Dreco made her well

Here is a most astonishing case of an Anniston, Ala. lady reported by her daughter for publication. This is what she says.

"My mother, Mrs. F. M. Boyd, living at 1408 Glen Eddie Avenue, has always suffered from rheumatism and sometimes would stay awake all night long from the pain. She is 67 years old, and inclined to be weak. One night eight months ago she got up to get a drink of water and fell, hurting one of her limbs and back, and had not walked a step since. One of the family had to sit up all night to wait on her.

"We had doctors treat her; she took every kind of medicine we thought would do her good, and she did not improve on any of it. Just lay there almost helpless and suffering all the time.

"We bought Dreco for her, she has taken three bottles of it, and today she can walk anywhere, is all over the house, has no rheumatism, back is entirely well and is planning a visit of walking. She had given up hope of ever being able to make this visit on account of being confined to bed. How this is a statement of positive fact that anyone can verify by calling at our address. Dreco got my mother out of bed, relieved her rheumatism, and she is able to walk anywhere. Dreco did this after everything else she took failed. I give this statement of my own free will and accord, with full permission to publish it in the papers."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Albany by Albany Drug Co.; In Decatur by Hilda Drug Co.—Adv.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

The Woman's Misionary society was delightfully entertained by the young women's missionary society of Central M. E. Church in the home of Mrs. D. W. Speake. Mrs. Speake and Mrs. C. W. Black gave us a most cordial reception at the door, and urged us to go in and make the acquaintance of the charming girls, who compose the society. Each officer was in her right place and conducted the meeting in a manner that I feel sure met the approval of Mrs. F. D. Johnson one of the conference officers,, also Mrs. T. M. Dix and Mrs. W. E. Morris, of Decatur, who were guests of the occasion.

Miss Glenn Garrison, president of the organization, was in the chair. Miss Mary Roxie Collier conducted the devotional and was leader.

A most excellent program was rendered, consisting of both piano, violin, and vocal music, interspersed with readings giving information concerning the missions in the different fields, all of which gave us an instructive as well as interesting program, at the close of which an original contest was introduced, giving a beautiful little story in which the names of the ladies of the adult society had to be inserted in the blanks to make the story complete. It added merriment to the occasion and showed marked ability of the young workers. The older ladies felt much gratified that they were enabled to contribute even in this small way to the pleasures of the dear girls. Light refreshments were served and all together we had a most delightful meeting. We praised the Lord for noble and talented women that are giving their all to character building.

"God Bless the girls" was the sentiment of each heart on our departure.

AMUSEMENTS

OLIVE TELL IN "THE TRAP"

Olive Tell is one of the favorities of the screen. You remeber her in "To Hell With the Kaiser," "The Girl and the Judge." "The Smugglers" and "Secret Strings." You recall the exquisite daintiness of her beauty—the charm of her personality.

Olive Tell is coming to the Delite Theatre Wednesday in "The Trap" which Universal has made into a photo-drama full of heart interest, love and the struggle of minds and muscle. "The Trap" is a miracle of dramatic situation. For it was written by Richard Harding Davis, whose master hand developed the thrills, the suspense, the anxiety, the blessed relief that made his story famous. Add to those thrills all the power of the cinema camera and you have an idea of the interest of "The Trap." It was directed by Frank Reicher. Sidney L. Mason, the "Jimmy" of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and the "Blacky Daw" of "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," is the leading man.

Got Her Pennies.

Mary had attended Sunday school for the first time. Upon returning home she was asked by her mother: "Mary, what did you do at Sunday school today?" To which Mary made the immediate reply: "Oh, nothing much. They took me down in the basement of the church and took my pennies away from me."

Observations of Connecticut Naturalist

There is a reason why cats walk on stone fences in their peregrinations. A cat will often travel three or four miles in search of prey. By walking on a stone fence they have a better chance to get the lay of the land. Thus, when the cat desires to return, if it once strikes a fence upon which it has traveled, its way home is then clear. A cat generally has a good reason for everything it does.—Farmingville Correspondence Ridgefield Press.

Sandpaper Label.

A device for protecting people from taking doses from poison bottles by mistake is a sandpaper label. The ordinary label is pasted in a piece of sandpaper large enough to go all around the bottle, so that when any one takes up the bottle in the night, no matter how dazed from sleep he may be, the rough, unfamiliar feel of the sandpaper rouses him and he recognizes at once that the bottle contains poison of some description: The printed label tells the kind of poison in the bottle.

Sleeps Any Old Way Now

"I am 50 years old and never was sick until 8 years ago when I got stomach trouble. I have spent a fortune for medicine which did not cure. I kept on suffering and getting worse. A fellow worker told me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. After taking three doses I felt like a different man; before taking it I could not lie on my back nor right side. Now I can sleep any old way." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—S. M. Thompson, Albany; Owl Drug Co., Decatur—Advt.

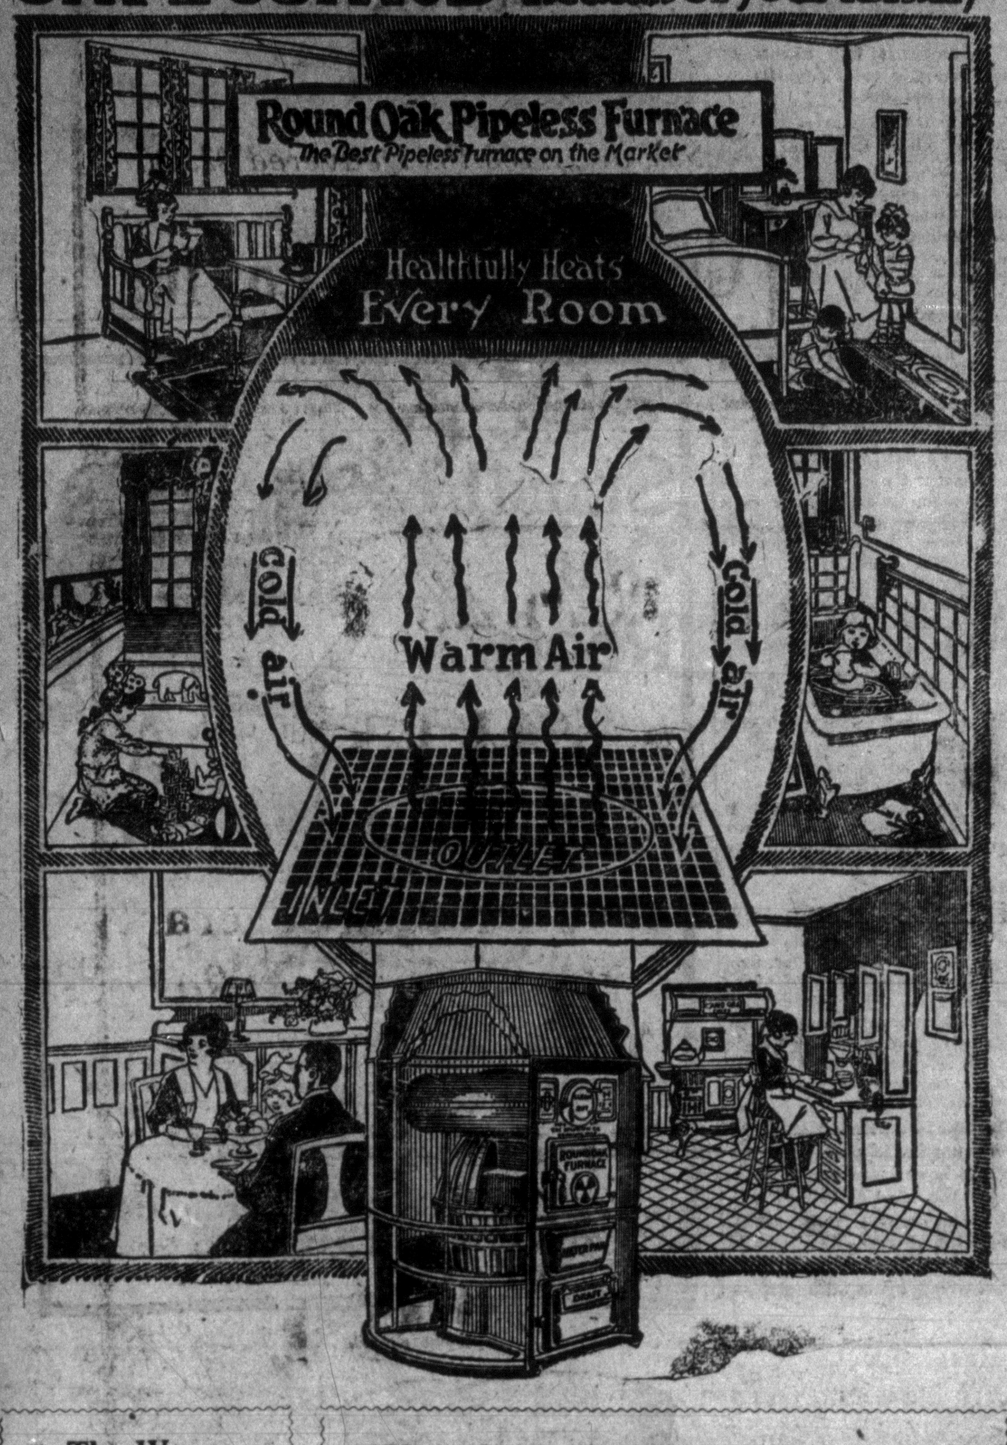
Now is the time for you to SAFEGUARD the comfort and health of your family



The Warm Air Supplied by Your Heating System Should Be Properly Moistened

Your doctor will tell you that not only health and comfort, but life as well, are dependent on a sufficient amount of moisture in the air you breathe.

When cold air is brought in contact with any heating surface, its ability to retain moisture is increased. This emphasizes the importance of having built into your heating system a large water pan, of proper shape, size, and location, to supply the heated air with a sufficient amount of moisture to safeguard comfort and health. In cold weather, by keeping the water pan in the Round Oak Pipeless System filled, the family will be comfortable at a temperature of 68 degrees, whereas, without the use of this water pan, the thermometer would have to register 75 degrees, to be conscious of the same degree of comfort. This difference of seven degrees represents not only a very real saving in fuel, which would otherwise be required to raise the temperature, but the moisture in the air helps safeguard health and vitality.

The Round Oak Pipeless Way

1—Convenient, simple, and easy to operate, using all standard fuels.

2—Installed according to scientific blueprints prepared free by Round Oak Heating Engineers, permanently solves your heating problem.

3—It's cleanly—no dust, dirt, or ashes in the home. Saves furnishings and work for the housekeeper.

4—Uses less fuel for results secured than any other system.

6—Materials and construction of the highest possible standard.

7—Heats domestic tank for laundry, kitchen, and bath.

8—Gives all of the floor space in all of the rooms. Entire compact system is in the cellar.

10—With reasonable care lasts indefinitely.

11—Adds to comfort, safety, and contentment of any home.

12—Adds to the value of your property more the the amount represented in its purchase.

Many and Varied Accidents Befall Humanity.

Files of Insurance Companies Are Full of Cases Where Injuries Have Been the Result of Most Trivial Happenings.

Accident insurance, or insurance which pays benefits in case of temporary disability, is carried by a great many people. The claim agent whose business it is to investigate reported injuries often meets with amusing incidents. The following were furnished by an agent of a large insurance company:

"Some captive rattlesnakes in a restaurant escaped from a box in which they were confined and so frightened one of the patrons that in his haste to get out he fell in front of me, and in getting up, came up underneath me, tossing me over his head."

"I was in bed and dreamed that a burglar was bending over me. I struck at him so hard that I was thrown on the floor with arm extended and broke my collarbone."

"Assisting a lady who had an umbrella under her arm, to board a car, the point of the umbrella was thrust into my left eye."

"I placed an electric fan beside my bed on a hot night. While asleep I stuck my foot in it."

"In a playful mood I kicked at my wife while barefooted and accidentally struck her on the knee, thereby spraining the big toe of my left foot."

"My arm encircled the neck of a young lady. I suddenly withdrew it and the thumb of my left hand came in contact with a brooch, penetrating the thumb almost to the bone."

"My wife was curling her hair. I ran against her and the hair curler struck my eye."

"I was embraced by a friend who playfully said that he could make me cry—fractured my rib."

"On a private yacht, I had just had a highball, got up, the boat gave a lurch and I sat down on the glass."

"Looking for a leak in a natural gas pipe with a lighted match—explosion followed."

"I missed my train and while walking on the country road I fell over a cow lying in the road. As I fell the cow got up, striking me and also stepping on my foot."

"Sitting in a chair in a barber shop and billiard parlor, a ball from a pool table nearby struck me on the nose, breaking nose and injuring one eye."

"I had been talking with another man, and as I started to walk along didn't notice a woman had pushed a baby carriage directly in front of me—fell over it."

"I was going down the walk in front of my house when an automobile wheel which had come off two blocks away rolled down the hill and struck me, fracturing both bones of the right leg."

"I was riding in an automobile when it struck a hole in the road, causing my teeth to come together with such force that the lower jaw was fractured."

"I was looking for burglars, and was accidentally mistaken by one of my neighbors for the man we were looking for, and he shot me in the arm."

Another "Dickens Original."

One by one the little band of remaining "Dickens originals" are being gathered to their fathers. The London Morning Post chronicles the death in Strood infirmary of Mrs. Regden, the Betty Higden of "Our Mutual Friend." She was one of the lesser characters of the great novelist's creation, but as Gilbert Chesterton so truly says: "Dickens not only conquered the world; he conquered it with minor characters. They appear only for a fragment of time, but they belong to eternity. We have them only for an instant (like the young man with the lumpy forehead, who only says 'Esker' to Mr. Podsnap's foreign gentleman), but they have us forever." How great Dickens really was is seen from the fact that not more than one or two men have been found capable of creating even a single character in their books of equal vitality and individuality. Perhaps the two most outstanding instances are Sherlock Holmes and Captain Kettle. But where Conan Doyle and Cutcliffe Hyne created one famous character of that disciple Dickens created fifty.

Irish Police Hunt Illegal Stills.

Enormously increased prices of spirits in Ireland, due to the heavy taxation on them, have led to the widespread manufacture of poteen, a very strong home-made product that dodges the exciseman. The police hunt for illegal stills, like all other normal police activities, has been hampered by the fact that the chief job of the Irish police has been to protect themselves from attack. So the Sinn Feiners who have taken over the task of punishing thieves have added to their function the capture of illegal still.

Dust Rolled Out of the Carpet.

For cleaning carpets, very satisfactory results have been obtained from a big open-work drum of wood which is turned by a gasoline engine. The carpets to be treated are placed inside and the drum turned and after about 30 minutes of this the carpets are thoroughly cleaned and are none the worse for treatment. The beating process is sometimes disastrous to carpets which are well worn, but this rolling process does them no injury.

ALL-ELECTRIC SEA CRAFT LATEST ENGINEERING FEAT

(International News Service)

PHILADEPHIA, July 27—The ship of the future will be entirely electric welded and of electric power.

It will contain about 15 per cent less steel, will take 40 per cent less labor, 25 per cent less time for construction, 2 per cent less power for propulsion, will be cheaper to maintain and will have 5 per cent more capacity.

These figures are the result of a long study by research engineers of the Chester Shipbuilding Company, who have prepared plans for a 9,300-ton freigter, single screw, with a speed of eleven knots an hour and a cruising radius. They mean a revolution in shipbuilding.

The hull of the ship is to be electric welded throughout and, therefore, wholly without rivets in its construction. All plates are abutted without lapping straps or angles and then are welded with a joint which the engineers claim will be 95 per cent as strong as the steel members themselves. This eliminates all overlapping steel in plating, angle irons or rivets. The saving of steel in this design will be 450 tons.

"Owing to the elimination of about 450 tons of useless metal in hull, the initial cost of material will be reduced accordingly. By the substitution of electric welding for riveting a great deal of labor will be saved.

"Due to the elimination of loose leaky rivets, and elimination of air and water pockets in riveted joints where rust may form and the substituting of smooth, for irregular, surfaces, the maintenance costs will be considerably reduced.

"The exterior, or wetted surface of the welded hull is smoother than the riveted hull, so that resistance to propulsion, fuel consumption and the capacity of propelling machinery, will be about 2 per cent less.

"Girders that cross each other become continuous and therefore no compensation need be allowed for discontinually. Water rightness is easily and completely attained even in most difficult places. As much labor and material will be saved, considerable time will be saved in the construction of the hull.

"Owing to the saving of space and lightening of hull with the same tonnage displacement, the dead weight and carrying capacity will be increased by about 500 tons with a consequent increase in carrying capacity."

LUCKY AND UNLUCKY DAYS

Study of Statistics Will Enable Almost Any One to Justify His Pet Belief.

Cold, hard statistics prove that the greatest number of premier awards for gallantry were won on Monday. No other day showing anything like the same record, though the much-maligned Friday stands out noticeably.

Which fact gives some color to the superstitions many people have about certain days of the week being lucky, while others are unlucky.

Tuesday seems to be the bad day of the week; calamities are far more common on that day than on any other day. Railway disasters, fires, street accidents—the record in each case is held easily by Tuesday. And it is the day most favored, too, by those who desire to put an end to their existence.

Saturday also has a bad reputation; its specialty is murders; and fully half the petty crime that is dealt with in the police courts occurs on that day. But probably that is because Saturday also holds the record for drunkenness.

There is nothing very distinctive about Thursday beyond the fact that it is the day upon which the birth-rate is highest; and Sunday is noticeable only for its low death rate.

Wednesday is, above all the rest, the day of weddings. This applies to all classes, and nearly as many marriages are celebrated on that day alone as upon any three of the others.—Montreal Herald.

Two Causes of "Eye Spots."

Spots before the eyes are of two kinds, namely floating and stationary. The former is a normal effect from natural imperfections of the eye, more noticeable in case of digestive disturbances. The stationary spots are a symptom of cataract, or opacity of the crystalline lens.

If your appetite is poor and your stomach and bowels are out of order the remedy you need is Prickly Ash Bitters. It cleanses the system of bilious impurities, sharpens the appetite and makes a man feel fine. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Heat—the tube's enemy
and the tube that overcomes it

THE one aim of Firestone in building tubes has been to defeat this tube destroyer by increasing heat resistance. Firestone's concentrated effort through the antimony process—a method by which heat-resisting power of the rubber is increased and deterioration reduced—has resulted in the Firestone High-Test Tube—a tube that parallels the quality and service of the Firestone Oversize Cord Tire.

Firestone builds this High-Test Tube bigger in sectional size, which avoids unnecessary stretch and strain when the tube is inflated. Heat-generating tension is therefore reduced.

Firestone's laminated structure—ply upon ply of thin rubber sheets, laid so the grain runs crosswise, produces a stouter tube wall.

Firestone introduced the cured-in valve pad, giving strength at the point of greatest strain.

With greater resistance to heat, greater strength and toughness, the Firestone High-Test Tube takes the same high rank as the Firestone Cord Tire.

Think what a small investment this Firestone High-Test Tube is—to protect your big investment in tires. Tell your dealer you want Firestone High-Test Tubes.

What is a pneumatic truck tire expected to do

YOU hear a good deal of discussion nowadays over the future of pneumatics in motor truck transportation.

More truck owners would be able to approach this question intelligently, perhaps, if the facts about pneumatic truck tires were only a little better known.

The first pneumatic truck tire created by anyone was given to the public by The United States Rubber Company in 1911, and the U. S. Nobby Cord is today first among pneumatic truck tires.

Designed, built and sold to meet the needs of motor truck owners everywhere—and for no other purpose.

If you are interested in pneumatic truck tires come in and let us give you a few more facts. We believe you will be interested in what we have to tell you.

It has been impossible to save the hay this season here on account of the frequent rains. Much fine hay has been ruined by rain, and much has stood too long in the meadows. A great big loss will occur, and a shortage of hay will ensue unless we have some prolonged sunshine.

Athens News

Miss Mable Vanhoosa, one of Athens own, having been born, raised and educated here, and later filling a position as tacher in her Alma Mater, Athens college, arrived Wednesday afternoon on her last trip before sailing for the Far East to take up her work as a Missionary to China. She was met by Mrs. Joe Sawyer, who etnertained her during her stay, and a lovely reception was given in her honor by the Missionery Society of the M. E. church at Athens college. Quite a nice crowd of ladies attended and bade her farewell and God speed on her mission. Later she was presented with the necessary silver needed in her work, as she teaches domestic science along with her religious duties. She left for Chicago Thursday afternoon, going over the N. P. R. R. to Vancover, where she sails next week with quite a party for Japan and China. Among others of this party will be Bishop Lambert. Athens is justly proud of this fine Christian woman and our prayers will be with her.

COOLIDGE IS TOLD HE'S NOMINEE

BIG CROWD TURNS OUT TO HEAR THE GLAD NEWS BROKEN.

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 27—By motor car, by buggy, by wagon special trains, trolleys, motor cycles bicycles and afoot, thousands of persons came here from far and near this afternoon to be present on Allen field at Smith College at the exercises attending the formal notification of Governor Calvin Coolidge, of Massachusetts, of his nomination as the republican candidate for the vice presidency.

This little city was gorgeously decorated for the occasion. The day was clear and warm.

The Governor himself this morning helped Mrs. Coolidge put the finishing touches to the informal lunch con to the notification committee.

"America must be rescued from all the reactions of war," declared Governor Coolidge in accepting the nomination. "With the emergency for voluntary autocracy over, the nation must re-possess the people of their government and property, eliminate the menace of seizure that hangs over private enterprize, blighting in its effect, paralyzing in its result, to the public detriment."

MARK ADAPTABILITY OF MAN

In the competition for survival, leaf-eating insects must be green, like their prey, or perish; woodpeckers, like the bark; the tiger, striped like sunshine through the rushes. The fittest survive. "A black sheep" is more than a figure of speech. The struggle for existence demands his murder in the flock of white, conspicuous in contrast. Adaptation or death. The crafty little chameleon is the prince of color adapters.

Faculties used, are sharpened; if neglected, they waste away into vestigia—the appendix in man. Eyes of moles and burrowers are slowly closed with skin and fur. The fluffy little lap dog has weak eyes. But cavern toads, with eyesight almost gone, will recover dim perception in slowly graduated light. And night-prowling cats improve their sight to penetrate shadow land. Man noticed the pupils of his eyes contract in sunshine, and enlarge in darkness—saw the bat, and understood.

On all sides he saw this principle at work: Bears, fur coated, restricted to the cold; the dolphin, in the sea; the eagle, the bird of freedom, alert always to escape in flight. He therefore devised the automobile, the airplane and the submarine, to jump from mountain top to ocean bottom.

This adaptability of his body of diversified surroundings has made him monarch of the natural kingdom.

A Ventilation Test.

Mrs. Newlywed was speaking proudly to her caller of their new house and told of its having hollow block construction, thus insuring plenty of ventilation. "I don't think your modern dwelling has anything on our old-fashioned frame house in that respect," returned her caller. "Every night we lock the cat in the cellar and let her out of the attic in the morning."—Boston Transcript.

Lee McNeese, Prop. wagon and carriage establishment, 120 Moulton street, Albany, says: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills every spring and fall as a preventive of kidney trouble and they keep my kidneys in a good, healthy condition. In the wagon and carriage business, I have considerable standing on my feet and now and then take a heavy lift. It affects my kidneys and brings on an attack of back ache. My kidneys act irregularly, too. As soon as I feel any of these symptoms coming on, I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co., and in a short time my troubles disappear. I am pleased to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."
